CIBC Caribbean Celebrates International Women's Day With Department of Gender Affairs

Turks and Caicos Islands, March 19, 2024 – The Department of Gender Affairs hosted a series of impactful events in celebration of International Women's Day this year. Starting with a conference and ending with a women's selfcare day, the activities successfully promoted gender equality and highlighted the achievements of women across the Turks and Caicos Islands.

CIBC Caribbean supported the launch event, Let's Talk Women to Women Conference, which was meticulously designed to address the various facets of women's lives. It encouraged dialogue, learning, and networking among attendees from all walks of life.

CIBC Caribbean Country Head, Terrance Gibson, said, "CIBC Caribbean knows the importance of women and the vital role they play in society and the world at large. It is our honor to support the Department of Gender Affairs in its commendable efforts to uplift and empower women across TCI."

The events spanning two weeks were well received by attendees. Most noted was the experience of feeling extra special while being hosted in a motivational atmosphere and celebrated through empowerment exercises.

Department of Gender Affairs Director, Carolyn Dickenson, said, "The importance of CIBC Caribbean and the corporate sector continues to buttress our ability to show gratitude to participants and speakers, and provide a solid basis for continuing to add value to community events and initiatives.

Our heartfelt gratitude goes out to CIBC Caribbean for the continued support as a valued partner in establishing platforms for gender equality and empowerment. As we express our gratitude, we continue to count on the vital input of CIBC Caribbean as a leader in the field of corporate social responsibility and a beacon for others to follow."
